

International Ataxia Awareness Day (IAAD)

is celebrated on September 25th every year as an effort from Ataxia organizations and individuals around the world to spread awareness about the disease and inspire action towards a cure.

Ataxia is a rare, progressive neurological disease. Degeneration in the brain gradually makes it difficult to walk and talk with symptoms that worsen over time.

Spread the word!

